

State of the Woman 2022

Conference Agenda and Information
Sagamore Pendry Baltimore
September 18-20, 2022

While women have made some progress in the workplace over the past decade, the pandemic has added significant stress, particularly for women who are balancing work and family responsibilities. Pre-pandemic, one in four women considered downsizing their career or leaving the workforce. That number has increased to one in three today, potentially setting back the progress that had been made by decades.

Achieving equality in the workplace for women is important. Inequalities impact domestic abuse, sex trafficking, education for ourselves and our children, health for women and children, poverty levels and our economy.

The State of Woman 2022 conference has been designed to bring together professional and executive level women who will

- Share the lessons they have learned throughout their career journey
- Discuss the challenge of the pipeline to feed the C-Suite and recommend tactics and solutions to correct
- Learn and discuss best practices that impact diversity and inclusion in corporate cultures
- Recognize women who are breaking barriers
- Celebrate our uniqueness and Inspire each other to believe in our potential and take responsibility for our success

Conference topics will address career management, business trends, financial empowerment and health/wellness.
